Florida Native Plants are part of our heritage

Florida native plants and animals belong here

For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
Southern Red Cedar
Holly

For personal educational use only.
Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
Beautyberry
For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
For personal educational use only.
Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
Walter’s Viburnum
Yellow Jessamine
Saw Palmetto, Coontie, Ilex schellings
Native Grasses
Blue-eyed Grass
Rosemary, Scrub Mint
Conradina canescens
When planting your cats, make sure you space them equally so they have room to grow...
Hackberry Tree, Sabal Palm
Fakahatchee Grass, Dwarf Walter’s Viburnum
Coontie
Right Plant
Right Place

- Sun or Shade
- Dry or Wet
- Mature size

Beach Sunflower, Dune Daisy
Beach Sunflower

Sunny
Dry
Sandy
12-18” tall

For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
Florida Bayberry/Wax Myrtle
Yellow-rumped Warbler
Coral Honeysuckle

For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
Gulf Fritillary

For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.

Zebra Longwing
Host Plant: Passionvine
Gulf Fritillary  Zebra Longwing
Gulf Fritillary
Zebra Longwing
Spanish Needles

Bidens alba
Long-tailed Skipper on Spanish Needles
Dainty Sulphur Butterfly
Host plant: Spanish Needles
Blanket Flower
Gaillardia pulchella

Sunny
Dry
Sandy

18-24” tall
Tropical Sage, Salvia
Salvia coccinea
Why Do We Plant NON-Natives?

I think it's pretty.

My friend gave it to me.

It was on sale at the (big box) store.

My neighbor suggested I plant it.
Wake Up
and
Plant the
Natives

For personal educational use only.
Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.
“There is an unbreakable link between native plant species and native wildlife. Everyone with access to a patch of earth can make a significant contribution.”
Don’t Worry, PLANT HAPPY!

For personal educational use only. Do not reproduce, post or use without express permission from the author.